Parsonage Social.
Mr. and Mrs. E. S. MacGregor, who leave tomorrow for their new home in Jacksonville, Fla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hohn of Greenwood at dinner last evening and later in the evening about 100 members of the congregation of the Trinity Lutheran church assembled at the home and tendered them a farewell party. During the evening in behalf of the ladies of the church Mrs. L. B. Burgess presented Mrs. MacGregor with a handsome pair of silver candlesticks. An elaborate luncheon was served. The gathering was a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. MacGregor.

Wilson-Lacey.
Miss Elsie J. Wilson of Dunbar and William Percy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Percy of West Peach street, were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church, named in Willis Road by the pastor, the Rev. Wilbur Nelson. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Percy left for Mount Vernon, W. Va., where they will reside. The bridegroom is traveling salesman for the Tri-State Candy Company and is well and favorably known in Connelville where he has resided nearly all his life. The bride made her home with her grandmother at Dunbar. Roy Wilcox of Scotland, a cousin of the bridegroom, witnessed the ceremony.

Missionary Society Meets.
Owing to the inclement weather the regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Methodist church which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Komer on the Normalville road was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas on Crawford avenue. The meeting was well attended. Satisfactory reports were given and three new members, Mrs. H. T. Crossland, Mrs. M. J. Hohn, and Miss Tippen were received. The annual thank offering service will be held in the near future.

Needleworkers are Entertained.
Miss Lee McDowell entertained the West Side Needleworkers last evening at her home at Dunbar. The club is well represented and the meeting was the most enjoyable one held for some time. Fancy work was the amusement of the hour and well appointed luncheon was served. Mrs. Rittenour will entertain the club Thursday evening, November 21, at her home on West Side.

Benefit Entertainment.
Arrangements have been completed for a benefit organ recital and musicale to be given Thursday evening, November 21, at 8 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Inmanville Circle. BOOTH TARKINGTON

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—A Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous, and have so little appetite. For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medical elements extracted from cod liver oil, combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of Vinol, which are contained in Vinol.

Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people, and the weak, run-down and debilitated. We return the money in every case where it fails.—Barnham & Company, Druggists, Connelville. Vinol is sold in West Side, by Fred H. Harnenling, Druggist.

P. S. Deanna Sufferers! We guarantee our new skin remedy, Saxo.—Advertisement.

Compass Identified as Capelles.
By means of a letter written by Mrs. Rebecca Gowers, superintendent of the Fayette State hospital, to the Mayor of Pittsburgh, Mass., William Capelles, who was assaulted on West Main street, and rendered speechless, was identified today as William Capelles, of Pittsburgh. Miss Gowers received a letter from John C. Capelles, father of the injured man. The description of his son tallies with that of the man at the hospital. In the letter no mention was made of Capelles coming to Connelville.

Wrong Negro Nabbed for Cutting.
The negro arrested in Dunbar for cutting the throat of Mrs. Ora Washington, of Uniontown, was not the man wanted, and George Lomax, alleged assailant of the woman, still is a fugitive. Workmen of the Keystone Hotel Company, Uniontown, reported the belief that a negro, who had just the plant, was Lomax.

Local Masons at Uniontown.
Attorney E. C. Hughes, C. D. Anderson, Robert North, E. T. Norton and Attorney R. S. Matthews are among local Masons attending a meeting of the Lodge of Perfection in Uniontown today. A banquet was served in the First Presbyterian church by the Ladies' Hospital Association of Uniontown.

Court Rules Negro Must Hang.
The State Supreme Court at Pittsburgh, yesterday, affirmed the decision of Judge Embel at Uniontown, a few weeks ago, in sentencing John Harris, negro, to death, for the murder of Thomas Jones, colored, at Zebulon, May 13, 1912. The date for the execution will be set soon.

MOTHER TELLS OF RECENT EXPERIENCE

Excellent Result Obtained in Remarkably Short Time.

"You can say that I am a very happy woman," writes Mrs. P. A. Mcdon, of Pittsburgh, well known in Connelville, "for the good your remarkable medicine has done my 6 year old boy. It is wonderful. He was troubled with a weak bladder ever since he was born, and after he had the whooping cough and scarlet fever, he was the bad more than ever. He was nervous and cranky, did not seem to take on flesh as a child of his age should, but was otherwise a healthy child."

"I got a dollar box of URI-STOP a short time ago from A. A. Clarke and am glad to tell you that it has greatly benefited my boy, and I believe that this second box will be all that will be necessary for his trouble."

Comparatively few realize that a large number of children among those who live in large cities like Connelville are afflicted with bed-wetting and that the results have been astounding in many cases. URI-STOP will act in such cases like a true specific. From the moment it is taken improvement is usually rapid. Many people who thought URI-STOP when first introduced by A. A. Clarke, have reported astonishing results. The great amount of good which seems to have been accomplished in cases far considerable excitement by those who have seen its wonderful work. Case after case of children given up by the local doctor is being cured in Connelville and the results have been astounding in many cases. URI-STOP is so confident of the curative value of URI-STOP that they have agreed to return the purchase price if not entirely satisfactory. A. A. Clarke, Local Agent.—Advertisement.

Funeral for Hugh Mc. Kern.
The funeral of Hugh Mc. Kern this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the family residence, South Arch street. Impressive services were conducted by the Rev. J. L. Leisheit, of the First Presbyterian church. Three solos were rendered by Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown. The local lodge of Odd Fellows, of which Mr. Kern was a member, attended in a body. Pallbearers were A. J. Brown, W. N. Leche, J. R. Davidson, J. L. Kurtz, S. L. Buhley and W. L. Robbins. Interment was in Hill Grove cemetery.

Among the out-of-town persons in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. George Waddell and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Road, Ft. Marion; the Rev. John Gilmour, Philadelphia; Mrs. William Kern, Carnegie; A. J. Kern and Miss Emma Kern, East Liverpool, O.; Robert and Miss Marjorie Timms of West Newton.

For Temporary "Iron Bridge."
Because a crash of business will prevent Pittsburgh contractors from building the new concrete bridge over Jacobs Creek, at Iron Bridge on the road from Mt. Pleasant and Connelville, a temporary structure will be placed for the winter. Fayette and Westmoreland counties will receive sealed proposals for the temporary bridge until noon, Saturday, November 23. The old bridge was destroyed by a threshing machine.

To Relieve Rheumatism

the body-waste producing uric acid must be gradually arrested and the blood purified. Correct diet is essential. Abstain from tea and anything containing alcohol; eat meat only once a day and take SCOTT'S EMULSION after every meal.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is rich in blood-making qualities and makes new blood free from the poisonous products which irritate the joints and muscles; its wonderful powers relieve the enlarged, stiffened joints; and more, SCOTT'S EMULSION replaces body-weakness with sound body-strength by its concentrated nourishing properties.

Physicians everywhere prescribe SCOTT'S EMULSION for rheumatism. SCOTT & BOWNE, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-95

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

That is the nature of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the one remedy for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots. Dr. Pierce tells its every ingredient on the bottle-wrap. Prominent physicians and some of the best medical authorities endorse these ingredients as being the very best known remedies for ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women.

This is what Mrs. GRNETT E. COFFEY, of Longstreet, Ky., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what your medicines have done for me. I was a great sufferer for six years from a trouble peculiar to women, but I am thankful to say, after taking four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am not bothered with that dreadful disease any more. I feel like a new woman. When I first wrote you for advice I only weighed 115 pounds—now I weigh 135. I thank you very much for your kindness. You have been as a father to me in advising me what to do, so may God bless you in every effort you put forth for good."

"I hope this testimonial will be the means of some poor suffering woman seeking health."

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates directly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Want Feet That Never Hurt You?

25 Cent Jar of EZO for the Feet Banishes All Misery.

George Umoltus, Latrobe, Pa., spent $700 for foot remedies. Hadn't stood on his feet for years; one jar of EZO and he ran and jumped like a boy.

Pretty strong talk, but it's true, and if you suffer from tired, sore, weary aching, burning feet or from Corns, Bunions or Callouses get a 25 cent jar of EZO for the feet.

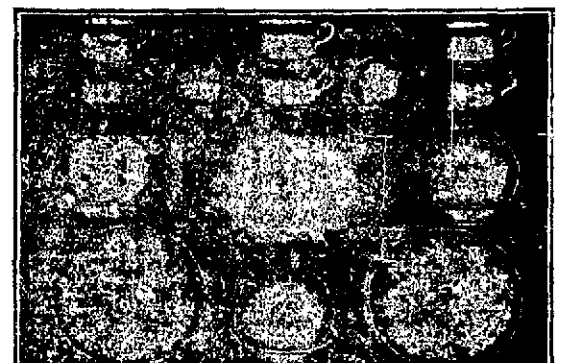

It's a rolled ointment and if it doesn't banish all misery and make your feet feel strong and fine A. A. Clarke will gladly give you your money back. No fussing—just rub it on. Use it for rough skin and chaps. It's splendid. All druggists.

Ask for EZO FOR THE FEET.

Come and Get Your Set of Dishes Free

Almost every woman who keeps house intends buying something new for her home this fall. Maybe one or two articles of furniture, perhaps a new rug, a new range or a new heating stove. The probabilities are that a big majority of these women will make purchases amounting to $35.00 or over. Women who have compared prices and who know values will of course come to Featherman's where the selections are the greatest, the lines the best known, the stocks freshest, the attention the most courteous and the price, as proven by the figures on our plain figure price tags, fully one-third less. But there may be a few people who do not know of the advantages of trading here and so as a special inducement we make the grand presentation offer of this 31 piece set of handsome Chinaware Free with all purchases amounting to $35.00 or over.

Understand us, this offer is extended to you whether you buy for cash or on terms of credit arranged to suit your convenience. If you have not started to keep house and are not ready to have your goods delivered immediately, you may take advantage of this grand free offer just the same and we'll store the goods you select, free until you wish them delivered.

Woman's World

Etzel Smyth, Famous as Composer and Suffragette.

DR. WILHELM SMYTH.

Window smashing and the gentle art of musical composition seem separate and distinct vocations, but Dr. Etzel Smyth, one of the most famous of women composers and an English suffragette of the very militant type, is able to combine both achievements successfully.

As every one knows, Etzel Smyth was arrested not long ago on the charge of being concerned in the attempt to burn Lewis Harcourt's country house at Neneham, Oxford. She has put the woman's demand for the vote into music in her choral satire "1910," which is a grotesque symphony of suffragette, anti-suffragette and the hubbaloob of a Parliament square riot.

The University of Durham conferred on Miss Smyth the degree of doctor of music two years ago in recognition of her work.

Her Trimmings now slant at very weird angles. Sometimes the tail, thick silver seems to be poised exactly upright against the hat brim when the hat is turned off the head, but the hat is probably done at a decided angle. The silver takes a backward, almost horizontal, sweep when the finished effect is achieved. An extreme mode shows a hat brim turning up steeply at the front for six inches, while at the back there is scarcely any brim at all. A soft brush silver stands out straight at the back, exactly at right angles to the upturning brim in front. Off the head this hat is a veritable caricature, but when on the high brim slopes backward and not straight up, and the long brush silver slants downward in elegant and graceful manner. Sometimes long wings are poised upside down on the hat, their long tips meeting at the back, far beyond the hair brim. A hat of this sort was noted the other afternoon at one of the hotels. A pretty young woman removed her loose luminous coat to reveal a graceful frock of tulle, colored to match the wings, and a mobcap of white lace and tulle, and the charming frock was reached by a tulle plash hat having two immense tulle wings shading to coral at the tips. An ornament of dull silver and coral was placed across the front of the hat between the wings. Patent leather shoes with black and gold buttoned tops accompanied the tulle frock.

What to Use on Floor.

Handsome hurlwood floors are the joy of a proud housewife. Likewise, they please the maid, for the amount of care they require is negligible in comparison with that demanded by the old-fashioned carpet, when any pretense of keeping the house clean and sanitary was made.

The paving of the carpet marked the beginning of a new epoch in house building. Formerly, only the kitchen floor was considered of special importance; now, all the flooring must be good, because, with the general use of rugs, large and small, it is all more or less exposed to the visitor's gaze. As for the kitchen floor in these times it is more likely than not to be covered with black-trade linoleum, laid in cement designed for that special purpose and making a seamless covering that may be washed with soap and water and that will outwear any wooden floor. If given a coat of linoleum varnish once or twice a year.

The First Newspaper.

The first daily newspaper in this world was established and edited by a woman—Elizabeth Mallett—in London, 1762. It was called the Daily Courant. The first daily paper published in the United States was started by a woman. The first newspaper in Rhode Island had a woman as its publisher, as had also the second paper started in New York city. The Maryland Gazette, the first paper established in Lord Baltimore's colony, was started by a woman, and the same is true of the Virginia Gazette, the first newspaper to print the Declaration of Independence.

CHAPTER XII.

The Parting.

They re-crossed the stream carefully, the horses restless and hard to control in the current, the men riding on either side, grasping the bit of the girl's mount. Others had joined the little squad of troopers on the bank and welcomed her with a cheer. The lieutenant dismounted. At sight of the girl's face he whipped off his hat, and came forward.

"Miss McDonald," he said, pleasantly greeting her, "I am Lieutenant Gaskins, and I have met your father—of the Sixth Infantry, is he not? So glad to be of service, you know. You were in the stage, I understand, a most remarkable escape."

"I owe it all to Sergeant Hamlin," she replied, turning to glance toward the latter. "He bore me away in his arms. He was a hero, indeed, I scarcely realized what happened. Do you know anything regarding my father?"

"Oh, yes, I can put your mind at ease so far as he is concerned. I presume you were endeavoring to reach his post when this unfortunate affair occurred."

"Yes."

"Sheridan has ordered Devereaux abandoned for the present, the major's troops are to return to Dodge. No doubt we shall be in the field within a week or two. But we can cultivate acquaintances later, now I must straighten out this affair." He bowed again and turned stiffly toward Hamlin, who had dismounted, his manner instantly changing. He was short, heavily built, man, clean-shaven, with dark, arrogant eyes, and prominent chin.

"You are a sergeant of the Seventh, you said, he began brusquely. 'What were you doing here?'"

"My troop is stationed at Fort Union," was the quiet response. "I carried despatches to Denver, and while there was requested by Major McDonald to intercept his daughter and turn her back."

"Were you subject to Major McDonald's orders?"

"It was not an order, but a request."

"Oh, indeed; a mere pleasure excursion?"

"It has hardly turned out that way, sir, and conditions seemed to justify my action."

"That is for others to determine. When was the attack made?"

"Just before sundown last evening. The driver and guard escaped on the lead horses, and the wheelers ran away, wrecking the coach."

"There were four passengers?"

"Yes, we fought them off until after dark, although the Mexican was killed by the first fire. I don't know when the other man got his."

"Who were they?"

"Gonzales ran a highball game at Santa Fe, the other, Moyle, was post-sutler at Fort Morcy."

"How many Indians? Who were they?"

"About thirty; we must have killed five or six. It was hardly more than daylight when they left, and I could not tell just how many bodies they strapped on the ponies. They were a mixed bunch of young bucks, principally Arapahoes, led by Roman Nose."

"Went west, hey?"

"Yes, sir."

The lieutenant turned his gaze up the river, and then looked at Wagon, who remained seated in the saddle.

"Must be the same lot Maxwell told us about up on Pawnee Fork. Sam said at last, 'He will be likely to out their trail some time today. We knew a bunch had headed south but didn't suppose they had got as far as this already. Let's have Maxwell to turn them in, I suppose? Our orders are to return to Dodge.'"

"They haven't three hours the start," ventured Hamlin in surprise and cannot travel fast with so many of their ponies doubly loaded."

"That is for me to decide," staring intensely, "and I understand my duty without any advice. Is there any damage done west of here?"

"The sixth man at the crossing is buried under a dead man there. I don't know what became of the third."

"Then it is just as I thought," those fellows will turn north before they get that far, and will run straight into Maxwell. What do you say, Sam?"

The scout lolled carelessly in the saddle, his eyes on the river, his lean, brown face expressing no emotion. "I reckon as how it don't make no great difference what I say, be an overheard word. 'Yer ain't taken no advice from me yet, fur as I reckon. But if yer really want to know, this time, my notion is them bucks will most likely hide in the bluffs till night an' then sneak past Maxwell after it gets good an' dark. If this were as my outfit now, I'd just naturally light on to the trail fast, outdore or no outdore. I reckon it's in jeans we came out after, an' I don't suppose the war department would find my fault if we found a few."

The blood surged into the lieutenant's face but opposition only served to increase his obstinacy.

"I prefer to rely on my own judgment," he said tartly. "From what stand," almost savagely. "Helm, give this fellow that extra rifle, and an ammunition belt. McMaster, you will let him have your horse."

Wagon rolled out of his saddle muttering something indistinctly which might have been an oath.

"I ain't goin' ter stand fer that lieutenant," he said defiantly. "Bain, an' I ain't no enlisted man, an' this were is my horse, Drunk Hamlin don't start on no such ride on that lame brute o' McMaster's. Here, you Brick," take this critter. Oh! about up! I'll git to Dodge all right. Won't hurt me none to walk."

The eyes of the two men met under standingly, and Hamlin took the rein in his hand. Gaskins started to speak, but thought better of it. A moment he stood, irresolute, and then swung up into saddle, his glance ignoring the sergeant.

"Attentional company," he commanded sharply. "By column four—march!"

The girl spurred her horse forward, and held out her hand.

"Good-by," she said, flatteringly, "you—will be careful."

"I shall never run away, surely, and I hope for the best."

Miss McDonald, broke in Gaskins' impatiently, "the men are already moving."

"Yes, her eyes still upon the sergeant's uncovered face, I am coming. Don't imagine I shall ever forget," she murmured hastily, "that I will not be glad to meet you anywhere."

"Some time I may put you to the test," he answered soberly. "If any trouble comes, trust Wagon—he is a real man."

He stood there, one arm thrown over the neck of the horse, watching them ride away up the trail. The lieutenant and the girl were together at the rear of the short column and he seemed to be talking earnestly.

Hamlin never forgot, or about his eyes from her until they disappeared over the ridge. Just as they dipped down out of sight she turned and waved one hand. Then the man's gaze swept over the debris of the burned stage and the two mounds of earth. Even these mute evidences of tragedy scarcely sufficed to make her realize all that had passed in this lonely spot.

He could not seem to separate his thought from the cavalcade which had just departed, leaving behind the memory of that farewell wave of the hand. To him it marked the end of a dream, the return to a life distasteful and lonely.

Mechanically the sergeant loaded his rifle and strapped the old Confederate haversack to his saddle pommel, staring again half unbelieving at the faded inscription underneath the flap. Yet the sight of those letters awoke him, bringing to his bronzed face a new look of determination. He swung into the saddle, and rode across his knees, his eyes fixed on the desolate distance, rode westward along the deserted trail.

CHAPTER XIII.

Back at Fort Dodge.

The swiftly speeding weeks of that war summer on the plains had brought many changes to the band of troopers engaged in the campaign or garrisoning the widely scattered posts south of the Platte. Scout ing details, although constantly in the saddle, failed to prevent continued Indian depredations on exposed settlements.

Stage routes were deserted, and the tolling wagons of the freighters vanished from the trails. Reports of outrages were continuous, and it became more and more evident that the various tribes were at length united in a desperate effort to halt the white advance. War parties broke through the wide-strung lines of guard, and not safely away again leaving behind death and destruction.

Only occasionally did these Indian raiders and the pursuing troops come into actual contact. The former came and went in swift forays, now appearing on the Pawnee again on the Salina, followed by a wild ride down the valley of the Arkansas. Scattered in small bands, well mounted and armed, no one could guess where the next attack might occur. Every day brought its fresh news, his eyes fixed on the desolate distance, rode westward along the deserted trail.

their assaults than ever before. It is impossible to drive them out and protect the families at the same time, for they are better armed, mounted, disciplined, and better officered than our men. Each hour brings intelligence of fresh barbarities, and more often slave robberies. This same month Governor Crawford, of Kansas telegraphed: "Have just received a dispatch from Hays, stating that Indians attacked and burned a train at Pawnee Fork, killed, scalped, and burned sixteen men, also attacked another train at Cimarron Crossing which was defended until ammunition was exhausted when the men abandoned the train, saving what stock they could. Similar attacks are of almost daily occurrence."

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.
A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable material mixed with olive oil which is in effect just what the liver needs. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all cases of constipation, biliousness, and indigestion. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all cases of constipation, biliousness, and indigestion.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually led him years ago to experiment with the view of discovering a substitute and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated olive-oil tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They act on the bowels in their effect on the liver, and have the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were cured of calomel.

They are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

COKE AS DOMESTIC FUEL WILL REMEDY SMOKE NUISANCE

Use of Smaller and Cheaper Portions of By-Product Output Advocated.

ANTHRACITE IS NOT AVAILABLE

Coke is Cheaper and Has Greater Heating Value. It is Also More Satisfactory in Some Other Desirable Respects.

Coke as a domestic fuel is the remedy suggested for the smoke nuisance by Warren S. Blawie in a paper read before the recent meeting of the International Association for the Prevention of Smoke at Indianapolis. The greater part of the smoke in cities is alleged to come from residences not from mills and factories. Anthracite and coke are the only substitutes for bituminous and other smoke-producing coals, but anthracite is found only in a relatively small area in Eastern Pennsylvania and its production and transportation charges make it too expensive for general use outside of a limited area. Coke as it is made from bituminous coal is not restricted to any one district. Improved processes of manufacturing, combined with the recovery and use of by-products obtained, keep down the cost below the price of anthracite and only slightly above the price of the better grades of bituminous coal.

Coke is "the solid left when a coking coal is deprived of its volatile constituents" by heating in a "retort" or "oven." The recovery of gas, tar and ammonia, the volatile constituents expelled from coal while being made into coke, is the "why" of the maintenance of low priced coke. On account of its cellular structure, coke is more bulky than anthracite coal and requires larger bins and larger ovens. However, little difficulty is encountered in the burning of coke suitable for coke. In fact, coke has advantage over anthracite in that the fire responds much more quickly to the change of draft.

The growing use of by-product ovens for manufacturing foundry coke is making an increasing market for domestic coke. Householders take the coke and nut size, left by the foundry men who want the larger pieces for the small sized coals are unavailable results of the coking process, domestic use has relieved a former drug on the coke trade. Householders have found through actual tests that coke is as satisfactory as anthracite for domestic use, and that it cuts down the winter's fuel bill considerably. As a result, the domestic coke market in many places exceeds the quantity produced in the manufacture of foundry coke.

The growth of the domestic demand is shown by the following shipments of domestic sizes from three plants at Detroit, Milwaukee and Chicago:

Year	Tons
1905	148,132
1906	200,570
1907	212,074
1911	412,074

This year's shipments will probably exceed 500,000 tons.

With anthracite coal at $7 per ton, the householder could pay $7.16 per ton for coke and secure equal heating effect at equal cost. As, ordinarily, the retail price of coke is based upon the cost of production, not on heating value as in the case of anthracite, the cost of heating an ordinary residence with coke is in some cases actually less than the cost through using bituminous coal. The general substitution of coke for bituminous coal can be made with little effect upon the householder's bill.

Some exhaustive tests to determine the relative values of various fuels for house heating boilers were conducted under the auspices of the United States Geological Survey in 1907 and 1908 and were reported in Bulletin 366. This report gives the relative efficiencies of boiler and grate with various kinds of fuel and in two types of house heating boilers as follows:

Fuel	Efficiency
For stoves and	50%
For boilers and	45%
For stoves and	50%
For boilers and	45%

Last Tuesday Night

men whose judgments differed in respect to parties and platforms, but who were all of one mind in desiring good government and a lower cost of living, packed the streets and jostled elbows as they awaited the returns that was to divide them into winners and losers.

But Today

All Men May Be Winners

as regards the selection of apparel if they'll come to this good store for any of the winter things that's needed. We'd like to have everybody come here and, to that effect, the things men wear are graded to please the railroader, the mill-man, the street-car man and the men of other pursuits. A store must carry a big stock of merchandise to meet the needs of everybody—satisfactorily—and our stock is the biggest in town.

Men's Suits.

We are especially well prepared for the hundreds of men whose price-range for suits is from $15 to $25.

These prices are easily high enough to permit the tailor to do good work and they are low enough to enable the man of moderate purse-limits to wear a suit that it took skill to make. The variety, too, is fine-taking in a great range of chevots, worsteds and winter serges in colors and designs that leave nothing to be desired.

Blue Serge Suits.

An excellent weight, true blue, all-wool serge suit in regular and Norfolk models.....$12 No. 9966—a better blue serge suit in all sizes and two models.....$15

—And Other Suits.

Our regular price ranges for men's suits—stouts, slims, tall, shorts and regulars is $15 for good, all-wool hand-tailored, fashionably cut suits, up to $30 for the finest specimens of the tailor's art in ready-to-wear clothing.

If You Wait Till a Boy Says He's Cold

before you buy him his new fall suit, you are likely to wait until he catches cold and have a doctor's bill in the bargain.

Fall and winter suits are nowadays made of much lighter weight fabrics than formerly and are quite comfortable in the early fall. Warmth without weight is the slogan.

These Norfolk and double-breasted suits for boys 6 to 18 years old are in fancy worsteds, chevots and blue serge. $3.00 to $14 a suit.

All the good warm

Overcoats

for boys are ready, and there couldn't be a better time to make the boy safe—nor a safer collection to make him look spruce and stylish. Ready for boys 3 to 10 years old $5.00 to $15.

Pole Coats—$8 to 12, $3.50 up.

Overcoats—7 to 15, to $15.

We've a Material for Women's Shirts

that is softer, finer and more durable than the goods in any ready-made shirts that we've seen. This goods—Viyella, it's called—is made in England, of the softest yarns and is thoroughly shrink-proof. Colors are absolutely fast. The 50c grade is 3 1/2 inches wide and may be had in blue and grey; At 75c, 31 inches wide, in white, grey, tan—plain or striped; and blue with a white stripe.
